About Harold Feinstein

Harold Feinstein (1931-2015) was born in Coney Island, New York, and began his photography career in 1946 at the age of 15. When he was 17, he joined the Photo League. At 19, Edward Steichen purchased his work for the permanent collection of the Museum of Modern Art. He is best known for his six-decade love affair with Coney Island as well as traditional street photography and photos from the Korean War. In addition to small camera black and white, Feinstein has a large collection of 35mm and digital color imagery. In 1998, Feinstein broke new ground as one of the pioneers of scanography, for which he was awarded the Computerworld Smithsonian Award in 2000. His most recent of eight books, Harold Feinstein: A Retrospective (Nazraeli, 2012) was a winner of the PDN Photo Annual 2013 Photo Book award. His photographs have been exhibited in and are represented in the permanent collections of major museums including MOMA, International Center of Photography, George Eastman House, Center for Creative Photography, The Jewish Museum and Museum of the City of New York. In 2011, he received the Living Legend Award from The Griffin Museum of Photography.
